A very good mix of First Person Shooter and Tower Defense game. Graphics are cool, but may require a bit excessive hardware to run without crashes. Mechanics are well implemented, specially a very balanced maths. Player must to drive a mech, highly customizable with removable parts and a big weaponry variety that can be acquire by buying, looting, doing missions or getting achievements; even the character dressing is customizable. Also, player can deploy turrets by everywhere by collecting enemy scrap, and there are many types of towers. Retro-futuristic ambience are fine depicted, the plot is fresh and with certain humour sense. Has sufficient kind of foes and they are well designed, maps are very fine developed too. Gameplay is a pleasure, really fun and addictive. To complete the main mission and 3 survival maps, to collect all possible items with getting 70% of achievements, takes about 100 hours. Is an indie product so unknown as well made, that deserves much more fame. Hopefully the designers do a second part: it isn't necessary to make it better, just more of the same.. Awesome FPS tower defense. Funniest theme I've ever seen. If you love tower defense you'll love this. If you love FPS you'll at least enjoy it. The game alas is dead though. Virtually impossible to find gaming partners :( I played this game to death with my cousin on the Xbox 360. I never realized it was on PC as well. I'm now hooked yet again, and couldn't be happier. 10V10 game.. I played this game to death with my cousin on the Xbox 360. I never realized it was on PC as well.
